LOYALISTS WIN THREE BATTLES IN HER PROVINCE.

Maj. Smith's Version of the American Suffering in Cuba-Gomez Sticks to His Old Tactics of Worrying the Enemy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

TACOMA, June 4.—News has been received here, via Hongkong, that the beautiful widow of Dr. Rizal is now commanding a company of Philippine-Island rebels, armed with rifles, making her headquarters at Nalio, Cavite province.

Last month definite information was received that she and her company were in Cavite awaiting the expected advances of the Spanish troops in that section. The Spanish Minister at Tokyo received telegrams May 10, stating that the Spanish had just won three victories in Cavite province, inflicting heavy losses on the rebels.

Mrs. Rizal was a stepdaughter of a retired Hongkong gentleman who went to Manila for his health. There his daughter met Dr. Rizal and married him against her parents' wishes. When her husband was captured and shot, Mrs. Rizal determined to devote her life to the cause he espoused, and as soon as her preparations could be made she took the field.

MAJ. SMITH'S INFORMATION.

Stories of American Distress Exaggerated-Gomez's Tactics.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—When Maj. William D. Smith, who testified on Cuban affairs before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations in Washington, was in New York he was interviewed by the Herald, which says: "Maj. Smith was formerly captain in the United States army, and is the only American officer who has reached the field in Cuba. As second chief of the personal escort of Gen. Gomez, he has been in the thick of the engagements of the last year. He recently promoted him to the rank of major for bravery displayed on the field, and to more fully show his gratitude, ordered him on this special mission to New York, at the same time granting him a long furlough to visit his family at Mount Sterling, Wis. He also gave him an order on the junta for his full salary, amounting to about $2500, which has been paid."

"Mr. Smith, when questioned about the condition of pacifics in the country, denied emphatically that there was any suffering among them. He said the province of Las Villas, saying that although vegetables were somewhat scarce about the country, the abundant rains have hastened the crops, and that at present sweet potatoes and yams can be found in plenty."

"Maj. Smith stated that he believed that the reports that many Americans were starving in Cuba were greatly exaggerated. He based his opinion on the following facts: While in Trinidad, he was shown a letter from Consul-General Lee, Mr. Quale, American consular agent at that place, requesting a list of the destitute American citizens in his district. Mr. Quale said the letter was the third he had received on the subject, and to each he was happy to reply that there were no starving Americans in the district of Trinidad, neither had he heard of any distress."

"Maj. Smith also learned while in Cienfuegos, where the bulk of American capital in the sugar industry is concentrated, that the factories of the district, and where consequently there is a fair representation of American citizens employed and residing, that there was no single family that needed relief. This information was corroborated by the American Consul, who had made a report to Gen. Lee similar to that of the United States consular agent at Trinidad."

"Maj. Smith afterward stayed a short time in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, where several prominent Cubans and Americans came to see him, and they also said that up to that time, owing to the failure of Gen. Weyler to operate in the East, the people were not destitute nor in need of relief."

"Recently Gen. Gomez placed under arrest Col. Juan Bravo, who commanded the brigade of Trinidad. He was charged with misappropriation of Cuban funds, receiving a bribe for permitting large numbers of cattle to pass into the Spanish lines, and general insubordination. He was court-martialed and Maj. Smith believes that by this time he has been shot."

"Maj. Smith says that Gomez sharply reprimanded Gen. Rodriguez for his lukewarm campaign, and ordered him to the hills of Trinidad. The volunteer infantry under Brig. Gen. Quintanilla was placed under his orders. Gomez, Maj. Smith said, had awakened to the fact that these hills were of great strategic importance, and Rodriguez and Bandera were ordered to prevent at all hazards the further incursions of the Spanish. If his orders were not carried out, Gomez threatens to degrade every officer in the command. That Gomez will keep his word is shown in the case of Bravo, who repeatedly disobeyed instructions to destroy the sugar cane and factories of Trinidad Valley. These estates, guarded by Spanish forts, have been successfully defended for a long time against the half-hearted attacks of the Cubans under Bravo. Under the energetic leadership of Bandera, the sugar factory at Canamabo owned by Smith & Fischer has been completely destroyed, and Bandera declares that he will not rest until the factory at Trinidad, owned by Mr. Stillman of Boston, shares a like fate. Messrs. Smith & Fischer are German subjects."

"Maj. Smith, who led Gomez's escort in all recent engagements with Gen. Weyler, says that the Cuban leader sticks to his old tactics of worrying the Spanish columns, but that now and then he tries of doing and gives them a good sharp fight. The most important one that has occurred during the present campaign took place on the estate Reforma, toward the end of April. Gomez was informed that Gen. Weyler, at the head of 12,000 men, divided into eight columns, was to make a supreme effort to annihilate him. Heatly concentrating the forces of Maj. Rodriguez, Pedro Diaz and Bandera, numbering about two thousand men, he waited for Gen. Weyler on the Reforma, and there occurred one of the hardest fights of the war. For three days Gomez successfully resisted every maneuver of Gen. Weyler to encircle him, and, felled and disappointed, Gen. Weyler withdrew the bulk of his forces to Sancti Spiritus. Maj. Smith says that the Cubans never left the Reforma. Gomez had twenty-eight killed and thirty-nine wounded. "Gomez will soon recross the trocha of Moron to be present at the assembly of delegates that will then meet to elect a new President. The election will be held back by Gomez will be assured of success. Maj. Smith says that the honor will be conferred on Delegate T. Estrada Palma if he will accept it, and in the event of his declining, the successful candidate will be Dr. Menescapote."

CAMPOS AT THE PALACE.

Madrid, June 4.—Marshall Martinez de Campos arrived today and went immediately to the palace. He is not identified with any party he is not concerned in the crisis from a political standpoint and will give his attention to other questions, particularly to that relating to the Cuban situation.

THE MAIN QUESTION.

MADRID, June 4.—Every one is convinced that the main question at issue in the present crisis is the selection of a new Governor of Cuba, capable of convincing the people that Spain is in earnest in the matter of colonial reforms.

A LIFE FOR A LIFE.

INDIANS ADHERE STRICTLY TO THE MOSAIC LAW.

They Surrendered One of Three Murderers of a White Man and Say That is Enough—The Situation in Montana Unchanged.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

DENVER, June 4.—A special to the News from Miles City, Mont., says there is but little change in the Indian situation. Sam Crow and Standing Elk, the other Indians implicated in the murder, are still at liberty. The leaders of the tribe say: "Indians killed one white man. We have delivered to the authorities one Indian; that is enough. We will not give up any more."

The crisis probably came today when Indian Agent Stouch attempted to escort Badger off the reservation and deliver him to the civil authorities. The soldiers were not expected to accompany the civil authorities further than the reservation. The Indians know this, and it is feared they followed the Sheriff's posse and tried to effect Badger's escape. As the reservation is fifty miles from telegraph service, no reliable news regarding Badger's delivery to the Sheriff can be had before tomorrow.

COCHITA GRANTS.

Supreme Court Decision of the Greatest Legal Importance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

DENVER (Colo.), June 4.—A special to the Rocky Mountain News from Santa Fe, N. M., says the opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the Cochita land-grant case was received from Washington today by United States Attorney Reynolds of the Court of Private Land Claims. The decision of the land court respecting the north, east and south boundaries of the great claim is affirmed, and the case is remanded for further proceedings in the lower court only as respects the western boundary, which the Supreme Court suggests should be at the nearest Jemez mountain west of the Cochita Mesa, or tableland.

In effect, the land-grant conditioned for by Joel P. Whitner of Boston, wherein he claimed 104,554 acres, is cut down to about fifteen thousand acres, and all the big mining properties in the Cochita district are declared to be outside of the grant and on the public domain. In addition to the final settlement of this notable case, so hotly contested because the value of the gold and silver lands affected runs up into the millions, this opinion also lays down principles of evidence of the highest importance in future litigation over land-grants.

[BY THE TIMES SPECIAL WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—[Special Dispatch.] One of the biggest pugilistic events ever decided here will take place Wednesday night, when Peter Maher and Tom Sharkey will don the gloves. In importance, the contest ranks second to the Corbett-Fitzsimmons battle. Maher is very confident of success. He says that if he defeats Sharkey, he can get backing for $10,000 for a fight with Fitzsimmons.

EARP SAYS IT'S FIXED.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—[Special Dispatch.] Wyatt Earp, who acted tonight from the East, is given as authority for the statement that the fight has been arranged for Sharkey to win, on the same principle as Sharkey's fight with Fitzsimmons. The sports, however, who know Maher, put no faith in this story, as Maher is very ambitious to meet Fitzsimmons, and were he beaten by Sharkey he would have no show of meeting the champion.

EASTERN BASEBALL.

Umpire McDonald Gives a Game to the Philadelphia.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Umpire McDonald forfeited today's game to the Phillies in the fourth inning because, as he said, the Pittsburgh men were throwing the ball around the field for the purpose of delaying the game until a threatened rain should arrive. The actual score at that time was 4 to 0 in favor of Philadelphia. Rain fell heavily a few minutes after play was stopped.

KINETOSCOPE PICTURES.

Bill Prohibiting Their Exhibition Causes a Lively Session.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

OTTAWA (Ont.), June 4.—There was a lively discussion in the Senate on the bill of Sir Oliver Mowat, Minister of Justice, to prohibit the exhibition or importation of kinetoscope pictures of prizefights under a penalty of $5000. A motion to kill the bill was rejected by 20 to 16, and the opposition Senators then proposed amending clauses to prohibit Canadian newspapers publishing descriptions of fights; to prohibit the entry of foreign newspapers describing them, and to prohibit people talking about fights at all. The first two amendments were adopted. The penalty was then reduced to $1000, and the bill reported to the House of Commons. It is likely the bill will pass the House as amended.

BRUTAL SPORT.

The new law makes twelve hours continuous riding the limit allowed.

HOT FOR CONVICTS.

Fire in a Penitentiary Makes the Prisoners Uncomfortable.

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.), June 4.—Nearly one thousand men imprisoned in the penitentiary at Lansing passed an unusually uncomfortable hour tonight. Fire broke out in the prison about 9 o'clock, and soon all the men held within the walls were in an uproar. The fire seemed to be spreading rapidly in the tailoring department, and chapel and the imprisoned men begged of their keepers to be released. Finally the flames became so threatening that fifty convicts, all of them thieves, were released to assist the officers in their struggle with the fire. There was no break for liberty, but the men performed their duty heroically, and the fire was ultimately quenched after a damage of about $8000 had been done.

Bimetallist Ministers Plenipotentiary.

PARIS, June 4.—It is learned from authoritative French sources that letters of credence presented President Faure by Senator Wolcott of Colorado and his colleagues of the United States Monetary Commission designate them as plenipotentiary for France, Great Britain and Germany, with the mission, in concert with the United States ambassadors to those countries, to discuss monetary questions and come to some agreement on bimetalism.

Direct Inheritance Law Voted.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—President Judge Hanna of the Orphans' Court, this afternoon, adjudicating the estate of George Blight, deceased, decided that the new direct inheritance law was unconstitutional. The question will probably be carried to the Supreme Court for a final decision.

[New York Correspondence of Pittsburgh Dispatch.] An excellent departure, from the view point of public policy, is the contemplated transformation of the ancient St. John's Cemetery, New York, into a downtown park and playground in the near future. And yet it is not without some slight pang of regret that the old New Yorker thus foresees the effacement of one more of the antiquated bits of the city which are fast disappearing.

Those who love the days gone by. The Park Commissioners have already adopted plans that will change this old St. John's burying-ground, very much for the better, and only await the promised appropriation of $60,000 to begin operations. Great are the changes that have come over the city since this plot, now bounded by Hudson, Clarkson and LeRoy streets, and the rear of tenement houses, was the cemetery of the old town of Greenwich. Its neighborhood is now and has been for some years, mainly populated by Irish and German workmen, who find its proximity to the great warehouse district convenient. But once it was a center of fashionable life, as some of the fine old residences still indicate. It is long since there was any burial in this cemetery, and its graves are in a sad state of abandonment.

CHICAGO, June 4.—A private letter has been received here from Nolla P. Currie, who went to Africa some time ago to make a collection of animals, birds, etc., for the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, and to study the customs, language, etc., of the various tribes. He was at Mt. Coffee, Liberia, the latter part of March, and in his letter refers to his work. He writes: "I have secured some fine specimens. I shot a fingering monkey out of a tree with a rifle. A native had located and shot at it, whereupon it retired to the top of a tree. After which I fired, and the native had no more ammunition he notified me. When the monkey fell there was a big crowd of natives dancing around and hugging me effusively. We bore the monkey in triumph to the house, where I skinned it and gave it to the natives. They are very fond. Several species of monkey and chimpanzee or baboon are found in this neighborhood, and we are going to have a monkey hunt before long."

Cured of Stomach and Kidney Troubles by Dr. Wong Hing of 311 S. Hope St., Los Angeles, Cal.

To the Public—It gives me great pleasure to say that Dr. Wong Hing's treatment in my case has been most successful. For years I have been troubled with the kidney and stomach troubles. I tried various remedies from other physicians but received no permanent help. Dr. Wong Hing's treatment has removed all tendency of these troubles and seems to be permanent in its results. I like Dr. Wong Hing's ideas of herb treatment, cleaning and restoring the system before building it up again. I am certainly pleased to say that he has done a great deal of good to me, and that I have found him to be a well-educated man, unassuming and kind, commanding the respect of all people. FOOLISH LEGISLATION BY THE LATE LEGISLATURE.

A Vicious Act Rendered Null and Void by a Blunder in the Word-ling of It.

RECAPTURE OF JIM PARKER.

HE WILL PROBABLY BE TRIED AT PHOENIX.

Lynching No Longer Practiced in the Territory—Sheep Men Rejoicing Over the Rise in the Price of Wool.

PHOENIX, June 2.—[Regular Correspondence.] It turns out that the late Legislature passed a severe kind of a fool of, in the matter of the act setting aside the crime of murder, so far as the members could not be termed dupes and knaves, and that their constituents make them all of that. The Council Judiciary Committee was guilty of a carelessness nothing less than criminal. Still, it turns out that matters are not so bad as they might be. If it was the intent of the bill to turn some murderers loose, it won't be done, for it now seems there was another blunder that offset the first one. It seems that the nineteenth Legislature, in its wisdom in passing the Northern Bill, repealed a law that did not exist. It takes some fine lawyer work to figure it out, but that is what they did. The repealing clause of the new law says: "Paragraphs 27, 27 and 27 of title III, chapter I, entitled 'Of Crimes Against the Person' of the Penal Code of Arizona are hereby repealed." Title III is not entitled "Of Crimes Against the Person" but relates to the punishment of the sovereignty of the State, defining the crime and penalty for treason. Title VIII relates to homicide and was evidently meant to be repealed. Instead of "VIII," as intended, was supposed to be a mistake on the part of the copyist or printer. Investigation of the engraved bill on file with the Secretary of the Territory discloses the fateful error. The most serious effect of the passage of the bill has been the mistake made by Judge Bethune, at Tombstone. He looked at the intent of the bill and also overlooked the matter of the "title III," and informed the grand jury that they could indict for no worse crime than manslaughter. Accordingly Zach Taylor, the murderer in question, will escape with a few years at Yuma for manslaughter. He killed a mining man in the most heartless fashion, the murder being almost unprovoked, and he richly merits hanging. Which leads the Phoenix Herald to remark pointedly: "More Arizona appointments are looked for tomorrow. There is certainly a call for an immediate change of Judge in the First District. Late developments there indicate an incapacity and want of the most ordinary legal knowledge, and a lack of industry to discharge every one."

MEMORIAL DAY.

Phoenix took three days to celebrate Memorial day. There was the 29th, set by the G.A.R., and duly observed with the usual floral embellishments; the 30th, Sunday, when it could have been observed to best advantage here, and the 31st, when the courthouses, territorial offices, postoffice and banks were closed. The observance of the day at the cemetery were sadly marred, owing to threatened rain, which, indeed, came down heavily for a few minutes. Other than covering the mounds with flowers little could be done.

PHOENIX BREVITIES.

The outlook for the experimental growth of sugar beets in this valley is the brightest. The Salt River Valley seems to be the home of the sugar beet. James McMillan has just returned from a tour of two weeks among the sugar beet experiments, and says the farmers are paying close attention to the crop, and with prospects of obtaining perfection in sugar beets.

It is likely that Parker, who murdered Assistant District Attorney Norris at Prescott, will be brought here for trial. A change of venue will certainly be asked, and Phoenix will be the probable place of trial.

TUCSON.

TUCSON, June 1.—[Regular Correspondence.] County Treasurer Hoff had a bonfire a day or two ago. It was a very notable bonfire, as it was authorized by a special bill in the Legislature for just that purpose. It seems that disposing of county securities is a serious matter. Even if the securities are in the county's treasury and held by the county, special enactment is required before such securities can be destroyed. The bonds in question are of the long-leaved Tucson, Globe and Northern railroad. The road went out on the mesa a few miles and stopped there. The county issued bonds to the amount of $250,000, only $200,000 of which reached the stockholders. As these bonds have threatened to make big profits in the county treasury of late years, it was deemed best to destroy the $50,000.

ALL-ALONG THE LINE.

Oil development at Whittier goes on apace. The district will soon be a rival of Los Angeles in point of activity. The hillsides and hollows around the Quaker town are already bristling with derricks.

Santa Monica has a prospect of securing the State ownership of the National Guard. The citizen soldiers could find no pleasanter place for their annual bivouac. The citizens of the town will do the right thing in the matter of providing proper accommodations.

The courts have on their hands the case of a forged deed to real estate within the limits of this city, purporting to have been made by the owner of the property, who is a non-resident. When we stop to consider how much property was purchased in the past ten years by non-residents, purely for speculative purposes, the only wonder is that more such cases have not occurred.

The scientific researches which are being carried on by the Pasadena Academy of Sciences on San Clemente and other islands off the Southern California Coast, promise to give results of unusual interest. These islands are practically virgin soil and are not only rich in archaeological remains but also contain many new varieties of animal and vegetable life. It is probable that a second expedition may follow the present one.

In its issue of Saturday, Greater Los Angeles gently chided its esteemed contemporaries for "curious blunders" which have appeared of late in their columns. By the way, that journal publishes, in the same issue, a cut of an "orange grove near Pasadena," in which the trees evidently belong to some entirely new variety of the citrus family. Perhaps the scholarly critic of Greater Los Angeles would kindly inform the anxious and expectant horticulturists of Southern California the name of this citrus curiosity.

It looks as though the San Gabriel Power Company, which was to develop power from the San Gabriel River, had struck a snag in the way of signatures to the contracts with the companies owning the water of that stream. It is necessary to get many signatures, and these do not seem to be forthcoming, while the irrigators show no great anxiety to comply with the request of the power company. It was thought a while ago that the matter was about settled, but progress in obtaining signatures does not appear to be made.

Lemon growers are pleased with the improved condition of the lemon market, it being reported from many quarters that the stock on hand will be either sold or thrown away in a short time, on account of decay. This cleans up the market and gives a chance to start anew. The late lemons are in fine condition and there will be no trouble in keeping them. Eastern dealers say that when the crop of the old trees of Sicily are producing this year fruit that will not stand shipment well, it is not surprising that the young trees of California show this year the same failing, as it is notorious that the fruit from old trees is the most hardy. The lemon producers will probably not get excited and refuse to sell their fruit for fair prices through the hope of immense gain, but will take advantage of the improved condition which seems to be at hand.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

CAMDEN (N. J.) June 4.—The United States composite screw gunboat Princeton has been successfully launched from the yards at Kaighn's Point. Miss Margaret W. Updyke, the daughter of Maj. Updyke of Princeton, christened the vessel, deftly breaking the bottle of wine over the prow as the craft glided gracefully down the ways. The Princeton is a fleet of six boats of her class, and will probably be stationed in South American waters. Her cost, not including the electric lighting plant and interior fittings, is $250,000. She is 204 feet long over all, thirty-six feet beam, with 1000 tons displacement at normal draught. The armament of the vessel will consist of six four-inch rapid-fire guns, four six-pounders and two one-pounders.

BAREFOOT BURGLAR.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT BY DEPUTY SHERIFF WHITE.

He Opened a Door to Admit His Partner, and Walked into the Grasp of the Officer.

REPORTER WATCHES THE PLAY

BAREFOOTED MAN'S PAL HELPED HIM IN AND THEN FLED.

Burglar Had a Morphine Friend's Complete Outfit—Bent the Burglary and Explained That He Had Slept in the Saloon.

A thin, haggard man of middle age, who gave his name as Frank Smith, was arrested this morning about 1 o'clock by Deputy Sheriff White from the rear of the building, in the corner of the saloon owned by Paul Vignes, located on the northeast corner of Main and Seventh streets.

A few minutes after midnight all of the lights in the saloon, except one over the bar, were extinguished. About half an hour later a man walked briskly but quietly along the north side of Seventh street from Los Angeles toward Main, leading a black dog from the rear of the building, in the corner of which is the saloon, and along the sidewalk for fifty yards or more, is a high board fence. In this fence, and but a few feet from the end of the building, is a narrow gate.

When the man who was walking so quietly up Seventh street toward Main came to the gate in the fence, a Times reporter, who had stationed himself in a position where he could see every scene and every actor in the drama that was expected to soon take place, saw him suddenly turn into it. The man did not act as one who was feeling his way in the dark, or who was unacquainted with his surroundings, but as if he knew where he was going, and what he was going there for. Not more than five minutes afterward the reporter saw another man come around the corner of Main and Seventh streets, and stealthily walk down Seventh on the north side of the street. He, too, slipped into the gate in the fence, with even more agility than the man who had gone in before him.

An uneventful moment passed, when on the still night air the creak of a window sash, as it was raised or lowered, was distinctly heard. The night air was growing heavy, and the fog was drifting in. The nearest electric light was on the corner of Seventh and Los Angeles streets, and in spite of the fog its rays fell up the back of the saloon building to a great extent. A moment after the moving of the window sash the reporter saw what appeared to be a human form enter or raised to a position so that it could be seen above the fence, and then it disappeared as through a window in the rear wall of the building.

A moment later a man came stealthily from the narrow gate, and after a hasty glance right and left, noiselessly walked toward the rear of the building around the corner of the building and out of sight. After another few minutes of waiting the reporter heard from the direction of the rear of the building, and then two men came through the gateway in the fence. One of these was a tall, broad-shouldered man. His smaller companion was evidently barefooted. As the smaller man stepped through the gateway and out into the full glare of the electric light, less than a block away, the light was reflected from a pair of handcuffs on his wrists.

The two men who came out of the gate together were Deputy Sheriff White and his prisoner, Frank Smith. Shortly before these events occurred White had taken his stand in an ell of the building from which the rear stairway leads up. When the window leading into a back room of the saloon was raised and one of the men helped the other up and through it, White was not five feet from the officer, and the footsteps of the man who entered the building as he walked back toward a door leading into the back hall.

When the burglar had gained an entrance into the back hall, he removed his shoes. He then walked quietly to the door of the building, and turned the end of the hall, to open it and admit his partner. A wooden bar had been placed across the door from the inside, and White heard the man take this away and lay it down on the floor. The burglar then unlocked the door, which opened toward him, and turned the latch. As he did so White, who was standing just outside, gave the door a push with his left hand, holding his revolver in the other. As the door flew open the officer grabbed the burglar by the throat, commanding him, as he did so, to throw up his hands.

The burglar obeyed the command instantly, and White placed the handcuffs on his wrists and led him off to jail. On the way to the jail White met a man who gave his name as E. W. Sewell of No. 741 South Main street, and asked him to go down to the saloon or find a policeman to do so, and see that the open door and window were closed. White then allowed his prisoner to put on his shoes, and took him to the County Jail. When the burglar was searched preparatory to being locked up, he was found to have a complete outfit of morphine and cocaine, nearly empty, and a bottle of cocaine. White asked the man who his accomplice was, and the man replied that he had had none. He said he had gone to sleep in the room of the saloon and was trying to get out when arrested.

When White told Turnkey Harrington to book the prisoner for burglary, he said, "I didn't commit burglary. I didn't break a lock or steal any money." No sooner had Harrington taken the fellow inside of the corridor than he asked for morphine. Harrington told him that he should have to go without the drug unless he could wait until White let him use it. White told the man that unless he gave the name of his accomplice he would never be given a grain of morphine while he remained in the jail. But this did not bring the desired information and the burglar was placed in a cell.

In regard to the burglar who helped his partner get into the window and then fled, White says he did not get a good-enough look at the man to be able to describe him. "From where I stood while the man was getting in the window," said White, "I could only see the lower part of the man's legs and their feet. I had no opportunity to get a good look at either of the burglars until after I had Smith in handcuffs and had brought him out into the light."

The Poisonous Gila Monster. John Van Denburgh, curator of the department of herpetology, California Academy of Sciences, writes to the Pasadena news as follows: "I have recently completed a series of experiments with the poison of the Gila monster, and can say, without doubt, that this animal has a very deadly poison at its disposal. There are occasions, however, when its bite sometimes fails to result fatally."

A BIG THEATER FIRE.

THE BURBANK GUTTED EARLY YESTERDAY MORNING.

Early Three Hours of Stabbing Work Necessary to Alleviate the Suffering of the Victims and Put the Department in Control of the Situation.

The Burbank Theater was gutted by fire at daylight yesterday morning. Damage was done to the amount of $12,000 or more, the principal loss being the theater building, which carried $100,000 insurance, and the theater furniture, stage fittings and scenery. The firm of Burbank & Griffin have $5000 insurance in each of the buildings—the theater proper and the big structure in the rear, where the greatest damage was done. This insurance is held in the British American and the Norwich Union companies, and will, it is now estimated, cover nearly the entire amount of the firm's loss. But little damage was done to the front part of the theater building, and citizens who passed along Main street at 8 o'clock in the morning could have had but little idea of the fierce fire which raged in the interior a few hours before. The alarm was sounded from box 15, and the department responded quickly to the call. It was a long, hot and well-generalized fight, the flimsy material of the big playhouse feeding the flames to an intensity of heat which made it both difficult and dangerous to cope with the fire. For two and a half hours seven streams of water of 250 gallons per minute were thrown into the heart of the seething furnace, and literally burned to death. At times the fire was so intense and far-reaching as to drive the workers from their posts, and melt the iron roof above their heads. They fought away, however, with dogged determination, and at last gained control. The rest was easy, and at 8 o'clock the engines were withdrawn from the biggest fire Los Angeles has experienced for many a month. It is intended to rebuild the theater, making many modern improvements.

MAKING DOCTORS.

Graduating Exercises of the College of Medicine.

The graduating exercises of the College of Medicine of the University of Southern California were held in the presence of a large audience Thursday night at the Los Angeles Theater. The opening address was delivered by Dr. Walter Lindley on behalf of the faculty. His subject was "The Great Revolution in Surgery." He traced the advancement of surgical science in the last half century from the discovery of anesthesia and the use of ether to the development of crushing of stone in the bladder. The term surgery of disease applied to the surgery, however, was the greatest of the achievements of the century. Dr. H. G. Brainerd presented the theses to the graduates, and, referring on each member of the class the title of Doctor of Medicine. The yearly prize offered by Dr. Goora, professor of obstetrics, to the student passing the best examination in his department was awarded to John C. Ferbert. It was a handsome gold watch. Dr. Lindley delivered the valedictory address on behalf of the students. The members of the class of 1897 were: Edward J. Cook, Verne Robert Day, John C. Ferbert, Edmund Myer Lasard, Frank Lowe O'Neil, Harry C. Sherrill, George W. Vaughn and Miss Mary E. Donaldson, all of Los Angeles; Alexander I. Fraser of Surrey, Cal.; Joseph W. Fraser of Danville, Ireland; Shinobu Kobayashi, M.D., of Nagata, Japan; Arthur A. Libby, Jr., of Pasadena; and Homer Rogers of Bakersfield, Cal.

PITH OF THE COAST PRESS.

Mexico is Pleased. [Mexican Herald:] Mexico, which has a population of 12,000,000, is pleased at the repatriation of citizens who have been long in the frontier States and Territories of the United States. Uncle Sam has plenty of people, and the repatriation of Mexican birth to their own country.

Desert Schoolyards.

[Oakland Tribune:] The example of Los Angeles in planting shade trees in public school grounds is a good one, and should be followed in Oakland. Our playgrounds are about as shaded as the Sahara.

We Won't Notice Him.

[San Francisco Post:] Some of the newspapers are protesting because Mr. Baud has accepted a position on the staff of a morning paper. Tut! Tut! If he proves to be no better newspaperman than he is Governor he will not be a very valuable acquisition.

Cheerful Statistics.

[Oakland Tribune:] People who are assuming that the improved business conditions have not arrived will, perhaps, be interested to know that a careful inquiry by the Buffalo Express results in an estimate that one million men who were idle in the autumn of 1896 have obtained employment since that time. This, at least, indicates the dawn of prosperity.

Fourth of July Special.

[Santa Barbara Press:] S. F. Booth of the Southern Pacific says his company is going to run a special train from Los Angeles on the 5th of July for our celebration. The train will leave Los Angeles about 6 a.m., reaching here at 10 a.m. and leaving for the ball. The rate from Santa Paula and Ventura, whence most of the people will come, will be one fare for round trip, hands being brought in free of charge.

Bad Taste in Fun.

[Tacoma Ledger:] The students of Harvard College have once more been having fun in their simple, collegiate way with the statue of the founder of that institution which is one of the ornaments of its campus. This time they painted it red, which to them seems a pretty good joke, but more civilized people it appears to be what it is, a piece of vandalism.

Aftermath of Some Budd Vetoes.

[San Francisco Chronicle:] James A. Berwick, section director of the Weather Bureau for California, gives notice that, unless the veto of the appropriation for State printing is lifted, there will be no more printed bulletins issued from his office until some other provision is made for the printing of the same. The expense of printing is perhaps unnecessary, as all agricultural papers print them either in full or in a very complete synopsis, and farmers who do not take agricultural papers certainly will have no use for weather and crop reports.

LABOR TRUSTS.

SENATOR EDMUNDS TALKS ON TRADES UNIONS.

He Says They are the Most Powerful of All Trusts and Gives Instances of Invasion of the Citizens' Liberty.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—At the dinner given by the former Ambassador to Italy, Wayne MacVeagh, ex-Senator George F. Edmunds received a cordial welcome. He touched a responsive chord when he spoke on the hostility that is now prevalent to trusts. He declared that the hostility was all one-sided, inasmuch as it ignored the great labor trusts. This is what he said:

"Somebody has said something in the course of this evening on the subject of the economy, of the intensities of the concentration of various trusts, sugar, oil, tobacco and rope trusts. We find in the newspapers which print everything and anything anybody wants to say, many things we don't say, lots of things about these trusts. But have they got them? Where is your plumbers' trust? Where is your carpenters' trust? Where is your every trust of labor and organization in every human industry that exists in the United States? "There came under my observation in your city of Washington a touching illustration a few years ago. I had occasion to employ a plumber to do a small piece of work for me, and, during the progress of the work he asked me if I could not find a place for his son, one of the departments. I asked him why he did not take his son into his own establishment, and there teach him his trade. He said—I can hardly state it without emotion myself—

"Senator, I cannot do it." "Why?" "Well," he said, "the plumbers' union only allows two apprentices in the State from a certain district, and my son cannot get in."

"I said, 'Why don't you teach him your own trade in your own shop?' and, gentlemen, the reply he made was this: "Why, Senator, if I did, I could not get a job in this whole city."

"I said, 'What is the reason for this?' Well, that runs through every trade—sugar, rope, tobacco, railroads that are bad, and all that, and so they may talk about our with men with wives and families to support who are willing to work for $1 or $2 a day, but they can't get it. Why? Because their union or their association don't allow them. The standard is set for them, and if they don't wait and starve their families until they can reach that standard, they can't get work anywhere. Everywhere they go they are met by the same condition of affairs, all over our United States, workingmen can't work for what he wants to—he must work for what somebody else says he must work for."

Street Car and a Mule.

A Vernon street car ran into a span of mules attached to a watering cart in front of the Arcade depot yesterday afternoon. As soon as the driver of the cart saw that a collision was inevitable he swung his team around on a line with the track with the result that the electric car struck the off mule squarely in its hindquarters. For a minute there was a circus such as rarely seen in the city. The mule was killed. The mongrel manifested much astonishment, and the way it lunged and plunged and kicked was a performance fit for a hippodrome. Then on a sudden both mules made a bolt for a carload of passengers who had just arrived on a Baker Block car, and were it not that the driver of the cart retained his self-possession, there would have been some serious accidents to record. As it was all happened so quickly that a slight injury to the platform of the car where it grazed the wheels of the watering cart.

He Will Say What He Thinks.

[Oakland Enquirer:] The San Francisco socialists have done an unusual thing for them, by inviting President Jordan of Stanford University to address them. If there is any man who is anti-socialist to the tips of his fingers, it is President Jordan, and supposing he talks as he thinks (and by that we mean that he says all he thinks, not keeps back a part) then he faces his audience of socialists, they will have something new to think of. The principle to which they trace all the evil in the world, viz: competition, is the one which President Jordan believes has produced most of the good; the state to which they look for relief is an enfranchisement he regards as a new form of slavery, and what they consider progress seems to him to be retrogression. So we have here a man of opinions of no common kind. Ordinarily our socialists, who are a very ardent, though not a numerous class, have no desire to be socialists to the tips of their fingers, and the San Francisco branch which has invited President Jordan to lecture to them deserves commendation for its liberality.

SOUTHERN WOMEN.

Pat on a Pedestal and Worshipped by the Men.

All plantation life is to a considerable extent patriarchal, except that, instead of the women being subordinated to masculine pleasure, as in the grandest of the patriarchs of old, they are set on a pedestal and practically worshipped, says Lippincott's. It makes little difference to this modern patriarch of the cotton belt if his cuffs are frayed and his coat rusty, so long as his wife and daughters wear suits as stylish as his own, and their village dressmaker can devise. It is a feature of the day in the South, as well as elsewhere, that women are being better educated than men. In the northern States of the Union this higher culture is tending manifestly to equality, but in rural localities through the South the girls come back from academies and colleges and accept the young men who stayed at home to work the plantations, the same ones they would have married had they not gone away for the education the parent sacrificed so much to bestow. They know what splendid material these men are made of, and in the attraction between the eternal womanly and the eternal manly the question of book-learning counts for little. To lead a patriarchal life without a patriarch would be dull indeed, and it must be said that it requires courage of a superior order to remain single in a world where the women have no earlier than their northern sisters, but, owing to an inherited habit of thought, the high price is respectfully fastened on them by the popular mind while they are still in their prime and in the northern and eastern States would be accounted capable of all things, even of marrying well.

SUING A PROPHETESS.

Former Manager of a Publishing House Wants $50,000 Damages.

Serious trouble has broken out among the Seventh Day Adventists at Battle Creek, Mich. For fourteen years Archibald R. Henry has been a leading member of the last session of the general conference of the Seventh Day Adventists. Mr. Henry was relieved of the various positions of trust held by him in the denomination, among them being that of treasurer and general manager of the publishing association, which position he had held for ten years. He declares that this action of the conference was the result of a series of "visions" and inspired revelations. Ellen G. White, who bears the relation to the believers and followers of the creed of a prophetess inspired from God, and he has brought suit against her for $50,000 damages. Mr. Henry says that when he became general manager of the publishing house Mrs. White, who is the recognized head of the denomination, was receiving yearly a large sum of money as royalties upon the publications of so-called "visions" and "inspired" writings. He regarded the royalties as excessive, and during his management of the association he reduced them. He alleges Mrs. White became angered, and for five years has written and distributed among the people who believe in her visions and are members of the denomination certain so-called visions, in which she charges him with a great number of crimes and misdemeanors and breaches of faith, confidence, integrity and duty.

Rare Case of Generosity.

[Washington Star:] The Commissioner of Patents, Gen. Benjamin Brewster, made a number of promotional visits recently. One of the places he visited was a woman who called upon him shortly after she had learned of her good fortune. "Mr. Commissioner," she said, "there is a woman who sits alongside of me in the office, whose necessities are much greater than mine. She is a splendid clerk, and every day she reports her sick sister and child. Her brother, who previously assisted them, died a short time ago. The lines of her life are drawn in many places just now than are those of mine. I want to ask a favor of you."

Maj. Butterworth naturally expected that the other promotion would be asked for, and he knew there was no opportunity to make it, at least in the future. But his visitor, who was a woman, said: "I want to ask if you will not let this other woman have my promotion and allow her to draw the increased salary until she is placed in better circumstances. When that time comes perhaps we may change about again."

Maj. Butterworth was dumbfounded. Ever since he has been Commissioner of Patents he has listened to the importunities of clerks in his office seeking promotion. He has never before heard of a clerk who wanted a promotion for some one else. He looked at his visitor and wondered whether he should grant her request. He remembered that he had remarked to his caller, "that you will shortly be translated to some other sphere," and he had heard of such things, but he did not know that it happened in this generation. Of course, your request is granted."

Farming Lands in New York.

[Pioneer Press:] Such large areas of farming land, intervening between densely-populated sections, have been included within the boundaries of Greater New York that the establishment of an agricultural bureau at the City Hall, with a system of crop reports, is a humorous and an essential feature of the new municipal administration. Almost in the geographical center of the city is a tract of 500 acres of land, known as the Long Island portion of "the second greatest city in the world" is given over to farming. Of course, every citizen who has a single acre of land is the prospect of the local celery crop, and will want to know what the increase or decrease is in the city acreage given to cabbages. So the municipal agricultural bulletins would be popular.

Gibing at Our "Christians."

[Fresno Examiner:] A great many withdrawals have been made from the Central Baptist Church in Los Angeles because colored children are taught the words of God in the Sunday-school. Quotations from the gospels of Matthew (23:14), Mark (10:14) and Luke (18:16), according to the Los Angeles edition: "Suffer little Caucasian children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God." [Sacramento Bee.]

Also from the Los Angeles edition:

"Mark 10: 27. Whosoever shall receive one of these little Caucasian children in my name, receiveth me."

"Mark 16: 42. And he that offend one of these little Caucasian ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck and he were cast into the sea."

Huh!

"Our Stevie's" Little Joke.

[Washington Correspondence of the Minneapolis Journal:] Senator White is having a good deal of fun these days at the expense of Senator Chandler. It seems that at stated intervals, the first three rows of orchestra chairs.

American Capital in Mexico.

[Mexican Herald:] Coffee-land buying by American capitalists continues.

Face the Music

How much longer do you think that nature unaided will be able to stand the strain that you have put and are daily putting on your constitution? You must remember that there is an end to all things, and you cannot go on weakening anything forever without being certain that it will at last give way. Get over the false sense of security you feel.

ARE YOU

You allowing yourself to turn away with the idea that those weak knees, those tremulous hands, those restless nights and those dizzy spells mean nothing? Make no error. That means falling manhood; that means a wrecked frame; that means loss of vitality, and you had better be warned immediately and set to work to repair the damage without a moment's delay.

brandy. After the proper period of time had elapsed, Senator Chandler acknowledged the receipt of the favor, and dwelt at eloquent length upon the purity and flavor of "the delicious California wine, and how it became a gain."

Mr. White inquired if Mr. Chandler had really sampled that wine himself. Senator Chandler had. Then White accused him of having a color-billio palate, and charged that he might just as well have sent his friend a case of sarsaparilla pop and saved the expense. Senator White insists that he knows the difference between French brandy and California wine, and he has behind him. The wine was some talk of appointing a Senate investigating committee until it was learned that the contents of the case had been entirely absorbed. At that point the other members lost all interest in the dispute, and it is now resolved into a mere matter of taste between two discriminating gentlemen, neither of whom have ever been accused of not knowing the difference between any sort of "hardware," even in the dark.

San Diego's Egoism. [Pasadena News:] We are surprised that the zealous San Diegoism of the Union and the Sun of that city should warp the papers into giving expression to an approval of the San Diegoism of the New York World on the harbor question. They quote encouragingly from that benighted eastern journal the son who said: "At Santa Monica, as San Pedro there were no harbors, but there were speculators and land syndicates anxious to make money. They took possession of Mr. Cleveland's commissioners and persuaded them to establish the harbor at San Pedro. There is quicksilver there capable of swallowing all the stone that can be quarried in the Rocky Mountains, and there is no suggestion of a natural harbor."

The advantages of San Diego as a harbor are not thrown into greater relief by the approval of such World stuff as the above. Our neighbors should know that the public sentiment in Southern California is practically unanimous in favor of the government improvement of a harbor that shall be a port for Los Angeles. This sentiment far transcends any money-making plans and hopes of any speculators and land syndicates. And as to that all-swallowing quicksand at San Pedro, how strange that the Union and the Sun should have failed to remember (even if the more poorly-informed World did so) that the several sets of government engineers who have in times past reported upon harbor possibilities at that point did not discover the pitfall.

The Val Verde Gold Mines, Randsburg

A small amount of money invested in mining is virtually without influence, but when investors group themselves together in sufficient numbers, each of them is benefited by the total money employed and the concentration of such investments on valuable mining properties will offer at all times a protection to each investor and will finally prove of benefit to all.

We consider our risk of loss reduced almost to nothing because of the co-operation under our plan of so much capital invested in the various mines and enterprises of this company, will enable us to work our holdings in the most economical manner possible under one management, thus enabling us to make our stock constant and permanently dividend paying.

Recent developments of our Val Verde continue to assure us of the permanency of its ore values, and we can safely assure our shareholders on the magnificent investment they have already made with us, and we feel confident that not only the Val Verde but our other mines, particularly the La Monte, will continue to appreciate in value as the development work progresses. Nearly every one has had opportunities for investment in gold mines or other enterprises, that had they taken advantage of them at the time, it would have made them a fortune from comparatively small investments. We are now offering you an opportunity for investment in a legitimate mining enterprise that we feel convinced will unquestionably pay enormous profits to shareholders of our company.

Don't Let This Opportunity Go by As You Have Others During Your Lifetime.

Expert engineers assure us that the Alameda vein on which such fabulously rich ore has been discovered, is merely an extension of the vein on which we are working. This in itself should be strong indication and proof to prospective shareholders of our stock, that going in at this time gives them an opportunity to get in on the ground floor in an enterprise that has such promising possibilities.

All the Gold in the World Came From Some Gold Mine.

In order to provide additional capital for further developing these properties so as to put them on the large and extensive dividend paying basis which the intrinsic value of the mines warrants, we are offering 100,000 shares to the public to be sold at 15 cents per share, fully paid and non-assessable, par value $1. Subscription books open at our office in the Wilcox building, on Monday, June 7, and close Saturday, June 12. Shares will be allotted in the order subscriptions are received, and as there has already been a considerable portion spoken for, in order to insure allotment, it would be wise to apply at once, to the

SANTA MONICA.

A Floating Corpse Found—School Election in Doubt.

SANTA MONICA, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] Some fishermen fishing from the wharf at Port Los Angeles today (Friday) at noon discovered the naked body of a man floating in the water. They made it fast to the pier and notified Coroner Campbell. The body appeared to be that of a man 45 or 50 years of age and had apparently been in the water ten or twelve days. He was a heavy man of medium height, with brown hair, side whiskers and top of head bald. From a cursory view of the body the only thing discovered indicating violence was a broken neck and discolorations on the breast. The coroner has given notice that he will hold an inquest in the morning.

A. Edinger, a small fruit dealer who was sued by City Marshal Dexter for failure to pay his annual license, has appealed from the decision of Justice Wells, holding him subject to the payment of license, to the Superior Court.

The ground of appeal is that he is an honorably discharged soldier and as such exempt from payment of license. The association of R. F. Elliott as school trustee has been stoutly contested by Frederick H. Rindge, with the result uncertain and in doubt. Mr. Rindge has been the last moment as a candidate and had a strong following from the Methodist Church, the A.P.A. organization and other citizens.

PARIS MIDSUMMER GOWN FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

"How cool you look! It is refreshing to meet you!" That, if men only knew it, is the one compliment always sweet and grateful to a woman's ears in summer-time. To look hot is to look homely. To constitute herself a little walking oasis in a dry and dusty land is the aim of the woman with an eye to effective dress. And that result is attained by such frocks as that sketched above, which is taken from Harper's Bazar. The foundation is a sunny yellow tulle. But this is veiled and subdued by a covering of white net, which is itself the foundation for a number of fluffy white gauze plaques. The lower part of the bodice is of the tulle, tucked at the waist, and threaded and belted with black velvet ribbon. The black belt lends slenderness, but the upper part and the sleeves are again veiled and fluffed with net and gauze. Wide white straw hat, with pale green ribbon, veiled with white tulle, and black velvet knots attaching quaint strings.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

The School Election—Boulevard Extension—Real Estate Deals.

SANTA BARBARA, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] Excitement in town today centered in the election of a school trustee. Every leading citizen is gathered round in social circles and engaged in laying of plans the past few days, and surprises were sprung on the unsuspecting public this morning.

The candidates were Mrs. B. F. Thomas, Mrs. Fillmore Moore and Charles P. Carrier. Mrs. Thomas was first to announce her candidacy, and at once the opposition hit upon the fact that Mr. Thomas had let the contract for building his new house to a Los Angeles contractor. That settled the votes of all mechanics and laborers. Then to keep this from counting against her, she was joined by Mr. Carrier, who was a local contractor and carpenter, as a candidate.

Mr. Moore tried to withdraw if she would run, and so the merry war went on until the sun went down, and then the neighbors gathered round in social circles and enjoyed themselves, while the count went on, saying: "Oh, well, it's all right whoever is elected. They're all good people."

The result was an overwhelming victory for Mr. Carrier, who received 584 votes, Mrs. Thomas 146 and Mrs. Moore 49.

THE MOUNTAIN BOULEVARD. The mountain boulevard is about to take another step in advance, and it is now probable that next winter will see the completion of this grand drive into Montecito. Mr. Ferl has finished his portion of the work into Sycamore Canyon, and sufficient money is now gathered round in social circles and enjoyed themselves, while the count went on, saying: "Oh, well, it's all right whoever is elected. They're all good people."

PLENTY OF FRUIT. A careful investigation of the fruit crop of this county shows that the prospects are most encouraging. The usual claim against the orange every spring is that the young fruit drops too much. This year the reverse is the case, as far as there is a probability that the young trees in particular will be greatly overladen. There is time for the fruit still to get a scorching, but the danger of dropping fruit is not probable much damage will ensue if it should happen. Apricots are an exceptionally large crop, the trees bearing full and being very evenly distributed. Peaches are nearly as full a crop as apricots. Cherries, in the mountain orchards, are of good size and are bearing heavily, the harvest being now at its height. Prunes and pears are a failure. Grapes, especially the muscat, are doing remarkably well. After the season of the year, the harvest of the fruit crop of the county will be a considerable one.

REAL ESTATE MOVING. The opening of the new mountain road to connect with the mountain boulevard running to Montecito, thus completing a belt drive via the beach boulevard and State street, has caused a number of rural tracts to change hands recently, the latest being the tract of D. C. Humphrey in Mission Canyon. The purchaser is John L. Colby, who has decided to remain here permanently. There are a number of other lookers in the same direction, and other transactions followed by extensive improvements will soon follow.

THE COMMON COUNCIL. The Common Council met in regular session Thursday afternoon with Mayor Whitney in the chair, and all members present. The newly-elected member, W. H. Woodbridge, was given a hearty welcome. The report of Police Judge S. S. Price was read, showing ten cases tried and $50 collected in cash penalties during the month of May.

The report of the City Water Tunnel Committee was read and approved. A deed to a new reservoir site was ordered drawn.

A petition to grade, curb and gutter Arellaga street, between State and Chapala streets, was granted.

The Police Courtroom was ordered carpeted.

An ordinance prohibiting hackmen from soliciting patronage at Chapala street station passed first reading.

Clerk Davis was granted leave of absence for fifteen days from and after Monday next.

ALLEGED CASE OF GRAVE ROBBERING AT ANAHEIM.

New Creamery in the Delhi District. Good House. Being Prepared—Graduating Exercises at Westminster School—Notes.

SANTA ANA, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] The Anaheim Gazette this week prints an account of what is, as far as known, the first case of grave-robbing in Orange County. In 1877 Virgil Smith, son of C. E. Smith, who now resides at Downey, was thrown from his horse and fatally injured. The body was interred in the Anaheim Cemetery. This week Mr. Smith requested his brother, W. J. Smith of Orange, to have the body exhumed and taken to Downey for reinterment beside the remains of the deceased's mother, who died about two months ago. A party of workmen proceeded to the cemetery in response to the request, and opened the grave, which is marked by a cement coping about it. After digging past the ordinary depth at which a burial is made, and conducting a most thorough examination, the men were dumbfounded to find no traces of the coffin. It is supposed from all the circumstances accompanying the affair, that the grave was robbed soon after the burial. Mr. Smith was apprised of the distressing discovery, and at once proceeded to the scene, making an even more complete search than the first attempt, but it was to no purpose. The question naturally arises as to whether such ghastly business has been pushed any further in the county.

A NEW CREAMERY. For some time past there has been an attempt on the part of a number of stock dairies in the Delhi district, south of this city, to organize a co-operative creamery. The project failed to succeed, however, owing largely to disagreement as to the location of the plant. James McFadden, one of the prime movers and principal supporters of the enterprise, has now decided to build a creamery himself. It will be located at the old dairy house, two miles south of town on Main street. The section road which runs east and west past the Delhi schoolhouse is already being extended west beyond the site of the creamery to the Newport road for the general accommodation of residents that section, which is well adapted for dairying.

WILL BE A GOOD ONE. The pamphlet descriptive of Orange County, to be distributed at the Christian Endeavor Convention at San Francisco, will be a very attractive one, full of concise statements of the advantages of the county. Every leading citizen will be treated, several of them, notably the sugar factory, celery fields, orange culture and great barley fields, to be represented with half-ton gravings.

The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to prepare the work is composed of E. A. White, H. A. Peabody, R. Q. Smith, E. E. Koch and L. P. Hickox. It will probably be of sixteen pages, printed on enameled paper, stapled in pamphlet form, and will be a valuable and reliable souvenir that thousands of the visitors will be pleased to take home with them.

ORANGE COUNTY BRITANNIA. Closing and commencement exercises of the Westminster school were held Thursday evening at the school building. There were two graduates, Nellie A. Almond and Emeline Hoskins. Miss Almond read an essay on "Beneficence," and Miss Hoskins gave the valedictory and read an essay entitled "Ideals." The exercises were largely attended. The presentation of diplomas was made by G. R. Carson.

Prof. G. Abram Smith, the well-known basso of this city, has been selected as manager of Hutton's new opera house in this city, and has secured a lease on the property, which is a handsome one, well equipped and thoroughly up to date. It will be known as the Santa Ana Grand.

George J. Monaghan, a local contractor and carpenter, has been selected as manager of Hutton's new opera house in this city, and has secured a lease on the property, which is a handsome one, well equipped and thoroughly up to date. It will be known as the Santa Ana Grand.

A gradual revival in business is taking place in this section of the county, and that business men generally feel that the improvement is of a substantial and permanent character.

E. S. Wallace and family departed for their new home at San Diego this morning.

VENTURA COUNTY.

Another New Industry Looking for a Location.

VENTURA, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] A company of the Mexican Sulphur Company, an enterprise which will give employment to many hands, proposes to erect a plant here, providing the company is given a desirable building site. Mr. Dubbs, superintendent of the company, who has gone to Mexico, will return about June 15, when the location of the plant will be decided. "It all lies with the people of Ventura," he said, "to have plant or not."

mentioned as a favorable location and aspirant for the plant.

The Ventura Valley Railroad Company has commenced suits to condemn a right-of-way over lands of the following persons: J. E. and Mary Cox, C. F. Greenfield, A. and Emily Jepson, Thomas Armstrong, Jr., Harriet M. Hadsell, J. M. Brooks, Larkin Snodgrass and John Esperance. Orestes Orr and E. S. Hall are attorneys for plaintiff.

Last week the Ventura Agricultural Association filed a petition in insolvency. Later the stockholders elected the following directors for the ensuing year: W. G. Adams, J. Ferand, J. M. Deiser, W. L. Hobson, F. J. Lifford, A. M. Camarillo, J. S. Collins, Robert Ayers, W. E. Shepherd was appointed attorney for the corporation, and instructed to resist the insolvency proceedings.

T. N. Jones left this week for an extended visit to the City of Mexico. Benjamin Elmore, known as the pioneer negro of Southern California, died here May 29 and 30 years.

He came to Ventura in 1861 and resided here till his death.

Emphatic Opinions. [Pasadena News:] Debs' eyes are said to be turned favorably to California in his scheme for colonizing a hundred thousand transients who would become voters, and strong enough to elect members of the Legislature.

We think his Sanjic may well save himself the trouble and expense of electing members of the Legislature. There are those already chosen who are eminently qualified servants of the devil, and in taking others he would run great risk in getting honest men. Take the supporters of Duckworth, for instance—what more could he want?

SAN PEDRO.

Mrs. Peck Elected School Trustee by a Big Majority.

SAN PEDRO, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] The most interesting school election held in the history of San Pedro was held today and passed off very quietly. As the polls were closely watched by challengers, no attempt to vote the floating unregistered population of the town was made. The result was the complete overthrow of the ring, Mrs. Olive M. Peck, the reform candidate, being elected by the overwhelming majority of 121 votes over her main opponent, W. B. Bonnell.

The total vote cast was 349, of which Mrs. Peck received 235 and Mr. Bonnell 114. This was a surprise even to Mrs. Peck's most ardent friends and admirers. The "push" element is utterly annihilated. The judges of election were W. A. Carpenter, J. R. Spring and W. H. Alton.

The body of Thomas B. Hayes, who died at his home in Wilmington last night, will be buried on Sunday afternoon under the auspices of Wilmington Lodge, No. 198, F. and A. M.

W. H. Burnham of Catalina made a flying visit to this port today in his pleasure yacht, the San Diego. He returned this afternoon.

The steamer Orizaba, Capt. Von Holmes, from San Francisco, bound for Mexican ports, stopped here last night and took in a cargo of twenty-two tons of merchandise.

The schooner C. G. Holmes, Capt. Johnston, will sail for the ballast for Blakely, Wash., today.

Ex-Mayor T. E. Rowan of Los Angeles visited this city today in the interest of his real estate.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

State Normal School to Be Located on University Heights.

SAN DIEGO, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] The commission appointed by Gov. Budd to select a site for the Normal School building here completed its labors at 12:30 o'clock, after a hot contest between the Pacific Beach people and University Heights, and selected the latter site which meets general approval.

Advocates of the Pacific Beach site ran a special train to that place this morning for the convenience of the trustees, who went to inspect the property before making a selection. School buildings are already erected at Pacific Beach that are said to have cost $75,000. In addition to these buildings there are sixteen acres of ground.

The trustees of the school met yesterday at the University Heights site, and W. R. Guy was elected president, and J. L. Dryden secretary. Advocates of the site at University Heights argued that a central location of the school was desired, and that it should not be located outside the easy reach of the city.

The trustees looked at the University Heights and Pacific Beach and Spencerville Heights sites, after which the board went into executive session and decided to select the site in favor of University Heights as above stated.

THE FALLBROOK ROBBERIES. John Great a waiter, and John P. Hendon, a driver, are suspected of having robbed the Fallbrook postoffice of $300 recently. The suspects cannot be found. They are thought to be somewhere in Southern California, and have been traced to Los Angeles.

O. J. Ellsworth has returned from his recent discovery of a mine called the Battle Snake.

Dr. F. Topete, jailed on the charge of bigamy, is being vigorously prosecuted by his first wife.

A. Phillips of Escondido has been taken to Los Angeles for treatment for spinal meningitis, caused by falling from a car at Oceanside.

The City Finance Committee says that the municipal expenses must be reduced. Mayor Reed has notified the Board of Public Works that bills in excess of the appropriation for that department will not be audited.

G. de las Magee is about to return from his home in the Philippines.

The steamer National City is due from Coos Bay with lumber on Sunday.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

A Chinese Murderer Convicted. Queen's Jubilee Committee.

RIVERSIDE, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] The jury in the case of Ling Gee, charged with murder, was out at Thursday night and brought in a verdict of guilty of first degree murder, fixing the penalty at imprisonment for life. Judge Noyes will pronounce sentence on the Celestial on Tuesday.

PASADENA.

RESEARCHES MADE BY THE ACADEMY OF SCIENCES.

Discoveries Made by the San Clemente Expedition—The Runaway Record—Reception by the High School Lyceum—News Notes and Personal.

PASADENA, June 4.—[Regular Correspondence.] Some important scientific researches are being made by the expedition sent out three weeks ago to Santa Barbara, San Nicholas and San Clemente islands by the Pasadena Academy of Sciences. At the meeting of the Academy held this evening Prof. Hoag read a letter from the expedition, which was the head of the expedition. The letter was brought by Harry Gaylord, who returned to Pasadena last Sunday, but has since rejoined the party. The writer gave some account of the results already accomplished. About 300 birds, 200 mammals and several hundred insects have been collected. A large number of Indian skulls and skeletons have been exhumed and many stone mortars, pestles and primitive trinkets and jewelry have been found. All of these interesting relics and the specimens of vegetable and animal life will be brought back to Pasadena, and will be the property of the Academy of Sciences.

An interesting discussion followed the reading of the letter. Prof. Hoag spoke of the great importance of continuing the investigation of the life of the expedition. The cost of the expedition will be very moderate, the total expense for four weeks, of the boat, two sailors and provisions for the whole party being only $150. To continue the researches $150 more should be raised. The academy has a small sum in its treasury, but no more than will be required for publishing an account of the work it has accomplished, at the close of the expedition.

It was the opinion of those present that it would be advisable, after the return of the expedition, to deliver a public lecture, charging a small admission fee. The specimens brought back from the islands could be exhibited, and stereoscopic views might be made of a feature of the life of the expedition would afford the nucleus of a fund for fitting out a second expedition.

A vigorous effort will also be made to gain new members. The membership is now between fifty and sixty.

THROWN FROM A BUGGY. Yesterday's runaway was somewhat more serious than usual. Mrs. Manker of South Los Robles avenue was driving on South Main street near the Raymond station, when the horse suddenly took fright and ran away. The buggy was overturned and Mrs. Manker was thrown out with considerable violence. She was painfully, though not seriously injured, having received a gash on the forehead and numerous scratches and bruises. Dr. F. F. Rowland was called and attended to Mrs. Manker's injuries.

LYCEUM RECEPTION. A reception was given this evening at the Old Pasadena Hall by the High School Lyceum to the High School team that took part in the recent field athletic contests at Los Angeles. It was also the last meeting of the lyceum for this school year. The programme included a debate in which John Strang was adjudged the victor. He will represent the lyceum in the oratorical contest to be held in Los Angeles by the Pacific Lyceum League on June 12. Dancing followed the conclusion of the evening's programme.

PASADENA BRITANNIA. E. D. Huff of Los Angeles entertained sixty members of the Epworth League of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles at a lawn party at the residence of S. J. White on Garfield avenue this evening. The young people came over in a special car, direct to North Pasadena, returning the same way. A packet lunch was enjoyed on the lawn, hot coffee and lemonade being served by the host.

Ralph Lewis, who has had charge of the upper cabin of the Bait Club, twenty-two miles above Azusa, was bitten on the thumb by a rattlesnake early this week. He instantly cut away the flesh about the bite and thereby prevented the spread of the poison. He came back to Pasadena last evening.

Walter S. Melick, editor of the Pasadena Daily News, left this evening to attend the meeting of the Pacific Coast Press Association. He will be absent about ten days, and during his absence John C. Wray of the Ventura Free Press will take down the editorial desk on the News.

Dr. H. K. Macomber today let the contract to Plant & Dawson for the new block which he is building on East Colorado street, adjoining the Natural History store. The building will be of brick, two stories in height, with a ground area of 9x110. The contract price is $7500.

MUSICAL MENTION.

The song and piano recital given by Miss Beresford Joy and Mrs. Justin Kay Toles at the Blanchard-Fitzgerald Hall last evening proved an exceptionally enjoyable affair. The hall was well filled with representative society and musical people, who evidenced their keen appreciation and delight by a lavish bestowal of applause and flowers. The programme was excellently arranged, and served to prove both singer and pianist thorough artists. Miss Joy, whose rich contralto voice and charming personality have already won her hosts of friends and admirers, and an acknowledged position as a singer of the first rank, scored a distinct success. The numbers were rendered with much mellowness and sweetness of tone, depth of expression and an enunciation that was refreshingly clear, whether the song were in English, French or German. The recitations and arias, "Plus Grand dans son Oiseau" ("Le Reine de Saba") and "Pieuxmes Yeux" ("Le Cid") were sung with much dramatic feeling, and the latter was followed by an enthusiastic encore, which was graciously responded to with the ballad, "Oh, that We Two Were Maying." Among the other delightful numbers, the "Mélodie de la Grèce" (Brahms), "Time Enough" (Nevin), "The Enchantress" (Hartton), and Augustus Holmes' "Berceuse" were especially notable for the beautiful rendering given them. Mrs. Toles shared largely in the success of the evening, rendering her numbers with a rare refinement of tone and brilliancy of execution that met with an instant and hearty recognition. Her wholly artistic fashion, the rendering of the "Spinnel" from "The Flying Dutchman" and the two Chopin numbers, the "Nocturne" in B-flat minor, and the "Ballade" op. 47, being especially fine.

UNDervaluation FRAUDS.

Consul-General Morris Denies Any Shortage.

Consul-General Samuel E. Morris, stationed in Paris, has taken exception to the statements made in American papers concerning undervaluation of goods, and in a letter sent to Los Angeles, emphatically denies that there is, or ever has been, a shortage of a penny in the accounts of the office. He states that it would be impossible, under the system now in force, for any fraud to be committed in connection with the undervaluation of goods exported to the United States. Mr. Morris asserts that the office of $1.13 ($2.50) for the certification of any invoice, is fixed by law, and paid into the treasury of the United States. During his own incumbency of the office, Mr. Morris has collected and accounted for about $200,000 in such fees. He has devoted a great deal of labor in connection with the office of the Treasury Department, to looking up undervaluation frauds in Paris, and asserts that they have been checked to such an extent that large sums have been saved to the revenue of the United States.

Favorable Vineyard Reports.

Reports received by wine merchants of the city from interior points in Southern California indicate that this year's grape crop will be the best ever gathered. The reports further show a slight increase in grape acreage, the better prices received for wine during the last two years having encouraged grape-growers to increase their plantations.

Baseball Tournament.

Los Angeles will probably have another opportunity to see good baseball. The tournament for the championship pennant and $1000 in gold coin is to open at Athletic Park Sunday afternoon.

There are twelve teams entered from towns in this end of the State, including Redondo, Santa Monica, San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and other places. The opening game will be between the Redondo and Los Angeles teams. Redondo is said to have a team that stands a good show for place. ## Good Indications.

Senator Stephen M. White sent a telegram yesterday to the Chamber of Commerce that bodes well for the speedy consideration of the tariff schedule on citrus fruits. It was a request for information on shipments of oranges and lemons, the number of cars, number of boxes in a car, and other valuable data which the wily Senator is gathering up in reserve for the coming battle over the 1-cent rate.
